

After we returned from our second trip to the earthquake region back in late August, I started working on a tract in response to the earthquake. I wanted to make something available to distribute in the region that would offer a message of hope in Christ in this time of suffering. I wrote the tract and then gave it to a Peruvian girl who helped put it in better Spanish. A friend from another church in Lima put together the design work, and we had it ready for our trip to Ica this past weekend. I'm working now at promoting the tract and trying to get as many of them into the region as possible. I've included several of the pages here for you to see.

Mark Ring flew down last week, and on Friday morning we left Lima with four other friends and headed to Ica. Mark has produced an evangelistic children's CD in Spanish and he brought 3000 CD's with him to distribute in elementary schools in Ica. On Friday morning, we gave a CD to every student in two different schools both very near to Manuel Rojas's church. The kids could hardly believe that we were giving them a CD to keep that they didn't even have to pay for. That afternoon, we handed out our tract all around the neighborhood of the church. My friend, Segundo Rodriguez, preached Friday night at the church, and I preached Saturday and Sunday nights.

On Saturday afternoon, we visited Pastor Juan Olivero who's house collapsed in the earthquake. We are looking at using the majority of the money that has been given to us for disaster relief in helping rebuild Juan Olivero's home. He is a good man who has been faithful as a pastor, and I'm excited about the possibility of helping him. Many of you have given toward the needs here, and it's exciting that we will be able to pay for most of the rebuilding for this pastor's home. Please pray for these two pastors, Manuel Rojas and Juan Olivero. They, and others, are continuing to minister during a tough time among people with huge needs.

A week from Monday, Lord willing, I will be headed north to Sullana to preach an evangelistic campaign. There are a couple of young people from here in Lima going with me that I want to focus on discipling during the trip. Please pray that the Lord will give us genuine fruit for our labors there. Please pray also for Cheryl and the children while I'm gone considering this will be the longest I've left them alone in Lima to this point.
